A Witch's Brew for Good Luck

Practical Exercise

While luck can feel whimsical and unpredictable, there are ways to invite its embrace through mindful intention and a sprinkle of magic.

Here's a luck spell for witches, focusing on positive energy and personal empowerment:

Gather your ingredients:

- A small cauldron or fireproof bowl: Fire symbolizes transformation and renewal, making it a fitting vessel for brewing luck.
- Fresh herbs: Choose herbs associated with good fortune and prosperity, like basil, bay leaf, clover, or cinnamon.
- A pinch of cinnamon or nutmeg: These warm spices add a touch of sweetness and positive vibes.
- A personal symbol of luck: This could be a lucky charm, a gemstone, or anything that holds special meaning for you.
- A flame source: Candles, matches, or a lighter will do.

Steps:

1. Cleanse your space: Light some incense or sage to clear any stagnant energy. Take a few deep breaths to centre yourself and set your intention for attracting good fortune.
2. Infuse your herbs: Place your chosen herbs in the cauldron or bowl. Gently crush them with your fingers, releasing their fragrant oils and intentions.
3. Add the spices and symbol: Sprinkle in a pinch of cinnamon or nutmeg, and place your personal lucky charm on top of the herbs.
4. Light the fire: Gently ignite the flame source and bring it close to the cauldron. As the herbs crackle and release their scent, visualize your desired luck flowing into the flames.
5. Chant or recite an incantation (optional): You can write your own words of power or use a traditional chant like this one:

    > "With herbs and flame, I call good luck,
    > May fortune find me, all day and all night,
    > From worries and woes, I set myself free,
    > Abundance and joy, flow to me."

6. Let the flames dwindle: Allow the fire to burn down naturally. As the embers cool, imagine your luck solidifying and spreading outwards.
7. Express gratitude: Thank the universe, the spirits, or whatever force you believe in for their guidance and support.
8. Carry your luck: Once the ashes are cool, you can sprinkle them around your home or workplace to attract good fortune. Alternatively, keep your lucky charm close to you throughout the day as a reminder of the magic you've woven.

Remember, the most potent ingredient in this spell is your own belief and positive energy. Focus on your desires with clarity and trust that the universe will conspire to bring you good fortune.

Bonus tips:

- Perform this spell during a waxing moon phase, which is associated with growth and prosperity.
- Add a drop of essential oil associated with luck, like orange or patchouli.
- Share your good luck! Helping others is a great way to attract positive energy back to yourself.

May your cauldron bubble with blessings, and your path be sprinkled with stardust!

Happy casting!
